

New Mexico Tech
Skeen Library
Gifts to the Library

Media and book gifts that support the mission of the library are always welcome. However, the New Mexico Tech Skeen Library may not be the best home for some donations. The library reserves the right to dispose of unnecessary donations unless the donor specifically requests the donated material back. The library will thank donors with a letter acknowledging the number of items donated, but cannot appraise the value of the items donated. Normally, appraisals for any gifts are the responsibility of the donor.
