New Mexico State University Library Book Display Celebrates El Día de Los Niños/El Día de Los Libros

In celebration of El Día de Los Niños/El Día de Los Libros (Children's Day/Book Day), the New Mexico State University Library is hosting an exhibit of bilingual (Spanish-English) children's books available in the library. The materials are being displayed in the lobby of Zuhl Library from April 28 through May 9.

El Día de Los Niños/El Día de Los Libros is being promoted by the Library and the Southern New Mexico Engaging Latino Communities for Education (ENLACE) Collaborative.

El Día was founded by Pat Mora, a noted children's author and member of the New Mexico Chapter of REFORMA, a national library association that promotes library and information services to Latinos and the Spanish-speaking. The emphasis of the program is to help communities celebrate the importance of reading in many languages.

Bookmarks and brochures listing additional resources and titles are also available. For more information on the display, contact librarian Molly Molloy at 505-646-6931 or ENLACE director Elisa Sanchez at 505-646-7927.
