NMSU Library Exhibit Celebrates El Día de los Niños/ El Día de los Libros

The NMSU Library announces an exhibit of bilingual children's books in honor of the annual celebration of El Día de los Niños/ El Día de los Libros (Children's Day/Book Day) on April 30.

The materials will be displayed in the main lobby and first floor west of Branson Library from April 25 through May 1.

The exhibit, prepared by Irene Shown and Deborah Parker of the library staff, features books that are available to be checked out by campus and guest borrowers.

El Día de los Niños/ El Día de los Libros was founded by Pat Mora, a noted children's author and a member of the New Mexico chapter of REFORMA, the national association to promote library and information services to Latinos and the Spanish-speaking.

For libraries and librarians, every day is Children's Day/Book Day, but the annual celebration is an opportunity to join together on a nationally recognized occasion to celebrate children, families and reading.

For more information and a reading list for El Día de los Niños/ El Día de los Libros, visit the Web site of the Association for Library Services to Children at <http://www.ala.org/ala/alsc/alsc.htm>. For information on the exhibit, contact Shown at (505) 646-4129.
