Gould is Winner of Library Raffle

William R. Gould, an Associate Professor in Economics and International Business, is the lucky winner of the NMSU Library's first Research Assignment Raffle. His entry was selected at random from all submissions. Dr. Gould will receive a $50 gift certificate to the Double Eagle restaurant.

The raffle was held to encourage NMSU main campus instructors to share their library and information research assignments with the Library so that the Library can provide better service to students. Submission of assignments was accomplished through an online form designed by Kate Manuel, the Library's Instruction Coordinator.

For more information, contact Manuel at 505-646-6932.
