Submitted by Cindy Pierard

Instructions:
- Deadline for submission is July 15, 2004.
- Submit no more than 2 pages.
- Use bullets.

Major Accomplishments:

Organizational
- Organizational accomplishments include continuing progress with the centralization of general reference personnel, operations, and services as well as reconstituting a support unit for federal government documents in Branson Library. The department’s new planning document, completed Spring 2004, outlines challenges and opportunities associated with the new service environment.

Personnel
- Cindy Pierard joined the department as R&RS Department Head, July 2003.
- Susan Metcalf joined the department as R&RS/Social Sciences Librarian, August 2003.
- Kirsten Clark was hired as R&RS/Government Documents Librarian, February 2004.
- Cindy Watkins promoted to Associate Professor, Spring 2004.

Programs
- Collection Development – Program reconstituted. Initiated regular meetings of Library subject specialists. Developed program goals and objectives. Coordinated GO Bond Proposal competition, which attracted 46 proposals (90% were fully or partially funded). Expanded electronic resource holdings and initiated formal group decision-making process for electronic collection development.
- Government Documents – Unit reconstituted. Planning begins for new service environment.
- Instruction – Piloted online version of LSC 311 in June 2004. Created online instruction modules for Government and Nursing programs. Conducted assessment of revised curriculum for ENG 111 (outcomes are still being analyzed). Revised content for New Student Orientation, resulting in improved attendance and feedback.
- Reference – Reviewed Branson and Zuhl reference collections in preparation for the summer merger. Continued planning for the shift to a centralized service environment. Participated in a specialized digital reference project with University of New Mexico and Universidad de Cadiz. Submitted successful proposals to the GO Bond competition, and participated in the development of the Library’s case statement for the University’s comprehensive campaign.

Strategic Goals/Targets
Goals/Targets met during the past year include:
- Develop plan and implementation timetable to merge reference collections and service desks.
- Create collection development group to define and identify collection development issues.
- Restructure Federal Government Documents services.
- Develop, test, and market online learning materials.
- Develop and deliver online version of LSC 311 for Summer 2004.
Trends/Issues:

- Reference – Reshape reference services within a new centralized service environment and explore alternative reference services to meet the needs of “offsite” users.
- Government Documents – Establish service point for government information and begin collection assessment. Prepare Unit staff to offer public service. Promote services and collections to the campus community. Stay abreast of national trends with the Federal Depository Library Program.
- Instruction – Expand discipline-specific instruction. Continue assessment efforts. Explore alternative methods and modes of instruction (online instruction, partnering with teaching faculty on instructional design, etc.).
- Collection Development – Develop toolkit and training to aid in the assessment of Library resources. Continue cooperative collection development with state and regional groups. Stay abreast of scholarly communication issues.
