- Anticipate problem with foreign language records due to Voyager Unicode upgrade
- Anticipated retirement in bindery unit and loss of faculty member heading Acquisitions Unit
- NMSU significantly behind peer institutions in implementing e-thesis/dissertations, institutional repository, and MARC records for aggregator holdings
- Several changes in cataloging practice signal significant changes. LC ceased creating series authority records and piloted a program for vendor production of selected catalog copy. Under the program, copy will not be available for redistribution. OCLC began offering access to 2 million bibliographic records through Google & allowing patrons to enhance records. These examples raise questions regarding the future of local online catalogs, the practice of shared cataloging, and the relevance of selected bibliographic data.
